TEAMING UP LOCAL <sup>AND</sup> NATIONAL CLIMATE ACTION

A GOVERNANCE PERSPECTIVE

Fossil Fuel Free Sweden Initiative aims to make Sweden the first fossil fuel free welfare state. This is only possible by mobilising all actors: cities, regions, private sector and citizen around the same long term objective. At the same time many European cities have pledged to become carbon neutral or 100 % Renewable and are implementing long term climate plans. Bringing ambitious initiatives and different government levels together can provide the right recipe for success for reaching the goals of the Paris agreement.

This event will highlight successful examples of cooperation between the different government levels that accelerate climate action on the ground, propose solutions to remove barriers for deployment of local low carbon policies as well as provide recommendations towards the Global Climate Action Agenda.
