Overview:

Hosts: Centre for International Sustainable Development Law (CISDL) & Green Economics Institute (GEI)
Venue: Narew Room, Side-Events Hall, Zone G, UNFCCC COP24 Climate Change Conference
Date/Time: 15:00 – 16:30, Monday 10 December 2018

Focus:

For ambitious implementation of the Paris Agreement and beyond, innovative legal and governance solutions and a greener economy are required alongside practical and technical measures to bring carbon emissions down drastically and quickly. International instruments, regulatory and economic innovation, compliance mechanisms and capacity will all be key. These interactive expert roundtables will share insights on challenges, trends and collective actions in legal, institutional and economic reform to strengthen climate mitigation, resilience and finance, building capacity for climate action globally, regionally and locally. Panels will highlight innovations to implement Nationally Determined Contributions and beyond and to achieve sustainable carbon budgets, including halving global carbon use to two tonnes of carbon by 2022. Findings of Climate Law & Governance Day 2017 will be shared, and Global Climate Law Essay Awards will be presented to the world's next generation of climate leaders.
