

EB side event at COP24/CMP14

Agenda

Title: Experience gained and lessons learned from the CDM

Description: The Clean Development Mechanism (CDM) has registered more than 8,000 projects and programmes in 111 countries, and has created a rich infrastructure of governance, rules, regulations and standards for assessing mitigation activities.

To capture the experience gained and lessons learned from the CDM, the side-event will draw from a diverse set of CDM stakeholders, ranging from project developers, financiers, academics, civil society, national authorities, verifiers, and others.

The event will also present and discuss the outcomes of the “CDM achievements report” which was launched during the EB100 meeting. The achievements report captures the successes of the CDM since 2001 with stories from projects, inputs from a wide range of stakeholders, and informative graphics and pictures.

This side event gives a unique opportunity to reflect on the broad range of experience gained and lessons learned over the 17 years of the CDM and discuss their continued relevance in the current evolving context.
