2050 Target: Fossils into the Museum How to get there

We need to solve the climate crisis, not just make little changes. Children all around the world are already working on it and they have now come up with a "3-Point-Plan to Save Our Future" which will be presented in our side event by Plant-for-the-Planet founder Felix (13). The means to solve the climate crisis already exist, and while children around the world are already starting to work on it, they are still waiting on the political will from adults to do their share.

The UNFCCC has taken up the question of a global 2050 target on its agenda in Durban at COP17. We will present the different perspectives on how the climate crisis can and should be solved.
