BUSINESS VIEWS ON SECTORAL APPROACHES

Friday, 6 June •Conference Ministry of Environment, WIND room

•13:00-15:00

The international sector approach is noted within the Bali Action Plan. A number of industry sectors have developed approaches which have resulted in improved monitoring and reporting procedures as well as significant greenhouse gas emissions reductions. As a multi-sectoral organization with member companies in more than 130 countries, the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) is uniquely placed to demonstrate the varied business views on what sectoral approaches could look like and review how they would operate in an economy wide system as well as possible impact on trade and finance.

MODERATOR: Brian Flannery Vice-Chair ICC Commission on Environment and Energy (tbc)

PANNELISTS:

Yoshi Tachibana, Tokyo Electric Company (TEPCO)

Vincent Marges, Lafarge

Robert Chase, Secretary-General International Aluminium, Institute

Others (tbd)

DISCUSSANT: Joanna Lewis, Pew Centre (tbc)
