

UNFCCC Official COP27 Side Event

REACHING WOMEN FARMERS WITH CLIMATE RESILIENCE STRATEGIES IN AFRICA AND ASIA

Date: Friday, Nov 11, 2022

Time: 11:30 – 13.00

Venue: Khufu, Sharm El Sheikh

Part A: Scene Setting

Welcome by moderator (Vivian Atakos, Global Engagement and Policy, CGIAR GENDER); sets the scene by introducing the event as an official COP27 side event (2 min)

Part B: Keynote:

Anke Oppermann, Head of Directorate "Decent work worldwide; food and nutrition security BMZ: No climate resilience without gender equity [or similar] (5min)

Part C: Expert remarks/ Opening Statements - Where do we want to go? Research and policy directions

- Dr. Nicoline de Haan, Director, CGIAR GENDER Platform: Research, Evidence & Gaps (7 mins)
- Prof. Dr. William Moseley, Director of the Program for Food, Agriculture & Society, Macalester College, Saint Paul, MN USA: A Feminist Political Ecology of West Africa's Herbicide Revolution (7 mins) virtual
- Dr. Claudia Ringler, Deputy Division Director, Environment and Technology Division, IFPRI: Solutions that work for women in a climate crisis (7 mins)
- Dr. Rachel Bezner Kerr, Professor of Global Development, Cornell University: Agroecology and gender transformative approaches for climate resilient food systems (7 mins)

Part D: Panel discussion - voices from the field: three-part partner conversation

- Dennis Njunge, Monitoring, Evaluation, Research, and Learning Manager Grassroots Organizations Operating Together in Sisterhood (GROOTS Kenya): Reaching women with climate resilience strategies in Kenya (7mins)

- Nozomi Kawarazuka, Scientist (Gender Research), International Potato Center: Experiences from Southeast Asia (7mins)
- Ms Fatou Jeng, Founder, Clean Earth Gambia/ Policy Operations lead, Women and Gender in the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change Youth Constituency (YOUNGO) (7 mins)
- Mansi Shah, Program Manager, Future of Work, SEWA India: How SEWA has grown women farmers resilience (7 mins)

Part E: Questions and Answer session

(15 mins)

Part F: Conclusion

Wrap up and synthesis - (Prof. Dr. Tillmann Buttschardt; Dr. Cornelia Steinhäuser, Institute of Landscape Ecology, Center of Interdisciplinary Sustainability Research, University of Münster, Germany, virtual (8 mins)

Concluding remarks: Director, CGIAR GENDER Platform Nicoline de Haan (5 minutes)

Organised by:

GENDER
Platform

WWU
MÜNSTER

