"NUCLEAR ENERGY – ROADBLOCK TO EFFECTIVE CLIMATE PROTECTION"

Why nuclear power is not the answer to climate change and the importance of decentralized, safe and clean, smaller scale technologies

We will bring together government delegates and civil society representatives to discuss key questions about the technologies and energy resources we should use for climate protection. We will discuss together why nuclear energy is, in fact, a roadblock to effective climate protection.

Civil society representatives will address the topics below. Government delegates present will be offered the opportunity to respond and to offer their views.

- Nuclear energy – roadblock to climate protection,
Daniel Mittler, Greenpeace Germany
- Finland and nuclear power - Olkiluoto 3,
Kaisa Kosonen, Greenpeace Finland
- The Human rights perspective,
Claire Greensfelder, International Forum on Globalization/WECF, USA
- The Gender perspective,
Ulrike Röhr, Gendercc-women for climate justice, Germany
- Testimonial on negative health effects of nuclear energy/uranium mining,
Svitlana Slesarenok, Black Sea Women Club/WECF, Ukraine
- Insight in the neglected rights of nuclear energy victims,
Vladimir Slivyak Ecodefense, Russia
- Small scale sustainable energy solutions, experiences in the EECCA region,
Olga Senova, Friends of the Baltic, Russia
