

Low carbon development pathways studies and regional findings on the economics of climate change

Chaired by Lord Nicholas Stern

Wednesday, 10th December

19.30–21.00

White-Tailed Eagle UNFCCC Pavilion

(Food and drink will be served)

This event will showcase important work that gives a regional perspective on the risks and opportunities arising due to climate change

Ursula Schaefer-Preuss (ADB Vice President) and Emil Salim (Chief Economist of the study) will present ADB's work on impacts, adaptation and mitigation in Southeast Asia

The event will also present work on low carbon growth pathways for Mexico

The presenters will be joined for a panel discussion and some Q&A by Mr. Raekwon Chung, (Climate Change Ambassador, Republic of Korea), Dr. Leena Srivastava (Executive Director, TERI), and Sergio Margulis (World Bank, Lead Environmental Economist)