

Centre for European Policy Studies (CEPS)

The Asia-Pacific Partnership on Clean Development and Climate:

On the way to a low-carbon economy

Venue: RAIL

Tuesday, 7 June 2011, 18:15-19:45

This side event will discuss the interim results of the study by the Centre for European Policy Studies (CEPS) on the Asia-Pacific Partnership (APP) on Clean Development and Climate and its sector-specific activities financed by DG Enterprise, European Commission.

The study aims at identifying success factors and what has worked under the APP and what lessons can be learned from the APP for a future initiative such as Global Superior Energy Performance (GSEP) at international level.

PPT presentations will be posted on the CEPS homepage after the event.

Agenda

Welcome by Chair	Nick Campbell, Business Europe
Introduction	Anna Sole-Mena, DG Enterprise, European Commission
Key messages	Noriko Fujiwara, CEPS
Future implications of the APP: The Japanese government perspective	Izuru Kobayashi, Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry, Japan
Comments by:	Bill Kyte, IEP Dirk Forrister, Forrister Advisory John Drexhage, ICMIM
Discussion	