

Ensuring Climate Risk Insurance Works for The Most Vulnerable

The impacts of climate change are increasing in frequency and magnitude. The poor and vulnerable are especially affected by climate change. Climate Risk Insurance is an avenue to reduce the risks faced by the vulnerable in the wake of extreme weather events. If implemented carefully and managed through a comprehensive risk reduction and risk management strategy, climate risk insurance can support this group in securing their livelihood and promote their human rights. In this side event, we will explore several approaches from the ground on engaging affected communities and civil society organizations in climate risk insurance.

- ◆ Date: Friday 21st June 2019
- ◆ Time: 15:00 – 16:30
- ◆ Venue: Conference Room
Berlin – WCCB, Bonn

MODERATOR
Vera Künzel
Germanwatch

PANELISTS

Sunya Orre
National Drought
Management Authority,
Kenya

Psamson Nzioki
Transparency International
Kenya

Sönke Kreft
Munich Climate Insurance
Initiative

Vitumbiko Chinoko
CARE International

LIGHT SNACKS WILL BE AVAILABLE