

Financing local solutions as a means to climate justice that leaves no one behind

The Government of Ecuador jointly with HELVETAS Swiss Intercooperation, Fundación Avina, TENMYA 21, the alliance Voices for Just Climate Action (VCA) and the project Andes Resilientes invite you to a lively exchange on solutions and lessons learned on financing local climate actions. The event brings together voices, perspectives and experience of local communities, governments, civil society and financing organizations from across the globe.

Thursday, 4th of November 2021

13:15 – 14:30 (UTC)

Registration
bit.ly/3CkfANQ

Online from South Downs (Multimedia Studio 1)

The event will be held in English with interpretation to Spanish

We will start the event with an analytic perspective on local climate adaptation actions and the financing challenges they face. A panel will then share success stories of financing adaptation at the local level, discuss challenges and propose actions to be taken by different stakeholders.

SPEAKERS

Gustavo Manrique Miranda

Minister of Environment, Water and Ecological Transition of Ecuador (tbd)

Anju Sharma

Lead, Locally-led Action Global Centre on Adaptation

Dr. James Sankale

Chief Officer for Environment at the County Government of Kajiado, Kenya

Rubén Ramírez Mateo

Minister of Environment of Peru (tbd)

Melchior Lengsfeld

Executive Director, HELVETAS Swiss Intercooperation and President, Alliance 2015

Tiza Mafira

Associate Director of the Climate Policy Initiative Indonesia (tbd)

Bianka Kretchmer

Climate Change Analyst, Adaptation Fund

Moderated by

Andrés Mogro

Fundación Avina and National Coordinator of the Andes Resilientes project for Ecuador

Read more about the event here:

<https://bit.ly/3pQsf3d>

Host:

Organizing institutions:

Andes Resilientes is funded by:

Donor of Voices of Just Climate Action:

