

Previous Reports and documents

Our coalition has released our COP21 report in two stages, first, a summary at the UNFCCC session in Bonn in October 2015, based on the INDCs submitted by October 1, 2015:

CSO Review (2015) Fair Shares: A Civil Society Equity Review of INDCs. Summary. Manilla, London, Cape Town, Washington, et al.: CSO Equity Review Coalition.
[civilsocietyreview.org/summary]

As well as the full report, released at COP21 in Paris in December 2015:

CSO Review (2015) Fair Shares: A Civil Society Equity Review of INDCs. Manilla, London, Cape Town, Washington, et al.: CSO Equity Review Coalition. [civilsocietyreview.org/report]

A full list of the 153 organizations that supported the report is available at civilsocietyreview.org/organisations

The peer-reviewed equity assessment methodology of the report has been published in the academic literature:

Holz, Christian, Sivan Kartha and Tom Athanasiou (2017) "Fairly Sharing 1.5 – National Fair Shares of a 1.5°C-compliant Global Mitigation Effort" in International Environmental Agreements: Politics, Law and Economics, Special Issue: Achieving 1.5°C and Climate Justice.
doi: [10.1007/s10784-017-9371-z]

At COP22 in Marrakesh in December 2016 we released a report focusing on assessing 2020 mitigation and finance pledges; a list of the 176 endorsing organizations is available at civilsocietyreview.org/groups2016/

CSO Review (2016) Setting the Path Towards 1.5°C: A Civil Society Equity Review of Pre-2020 Ambition. Manilla, London, Cape Town, Washington, et al.: CSO Equity Review Coalition.
[civilsocietyreview.org/report2016]

At the Fiji COP23 in November 2017 we focused again on the NDCs and how equity assessments such as ours can play a role in the Talanoa Dialogue; the report was endorsed by 136 organizations, available at civilsocietyreview.org/groups2017

CSO Review (2017) Equity and the Ambition Ratchet: Towards a Meaningful 2018 Facilitative Dialogue. Manilla, London, Cape Town, Washington, et al.: CSO Equity Review Coalition.
[civilsocietyreview.org/report2017]