Cities & Regions Talanoa Dialogues:
City of Bonn examples on multilevel governance
Group photo with champions
Table discussion
Impulses for the Talanoa Dialogue

Outcomes of the High Level Dinner on 27 April

- Multi-diverse, multinational and multi-level approach
- Key question: Which legal, financial or technical innovations can be beneficial to the implementation of the Climate Agreement?
- Special guests: UNCC ES Espinosa; Minister Seruiratu (Fiji) BMU State Secretary Flasbarth, COP 24 Presidency Special Envoy Chruszczow, Deputy Governor of Jakarta
Impulses for the Talanoa Dialogue

Outcomes of the High Level Dinner on 27 April

Outcomes:

- Urgent need for strengthening multilevel climate governance
- International & national policies are necessary but they need to be implemented at the local level
- Cities & Regions play leading role in undertaking ambitious climate action
- Talanoa Dialogue provides a chance for cities & regions to have their voices heard
Impulses for the Talanoa Dialogue

Outcomes of the High Level Dinner on 27 April

Target
Appreciation
Legal framework
Action
Next steps to be taken
Organizing ourselves
Allicane of ambition
Impulses for the Talanoa Dialogue

Outcomes of the High Level Dinner on 27 April

Financial Innovations
- Access to finance for the local level
- Enhancing capacities
- PPP

Legal Innovations
- Zero immission policies (India)
- Carbon Tax (Mexico)
- Bylaws at local level to increase ambition (Germany)
Impulses for the Talanoa Dialogue

Outcomes of the High Level Dinner on 27 April

Technical Innovations

- Tools to improve use of renewable energies (e.g. solar catalysts)
- Innovative mobility concepts
- Water efficiency models
Impulses for the Talanoa Dialogue

Outcomes of the High Level Dinner on 27 April

Take-aways from the Talanoa-dinner:

=> Thinking in silos is outdated!
=> Local level can proof that change is possible!
=> Local success stories need to be shared and replicated!
Thank you for your attention!